If We Could Only See

If we could only see like God we would have no enemies.
People might call you an enemy yet all you see are friends.
Christ did not judge his fellow man.
Buddha did not either.
They showed us a different way to live.
They didn't try to convince us.
Their state of being was divine.
They were like the sun in the sky always shining.
Even when there are clouds in the sky the sun is always shining.
The great masters always were shining.
They didn't have anything to prove.
Their ego was not in their way.
They came to help mankind.
We had lost our ways.

In Ancient India

In ancient India comes this story.
Two men a rich merchant and a thief.
Both men decide to travel together.
After each day they would share a room for the night.
The merchant carried a precious diamond.
Each night the thief would search all over the room to steal this diamond.
This would occur every night on their journey.
Finally, they reached their destination.
The thief said to the merchant the following.
I'm a grand thief.
I have been looking every night to steal your diamond.
Where did you hide it?
The merchant replied.
I hid it in the last place you would ever think.
I place it under your pillow.
Is this the same story for man?
We look for God outside yet God is hidden within.
We never looked at the most obvious.
God lies in our heart.

In Our Search For Life, We Make It So Complicated

In our search for life, we make it so complicated.
We work our lives away thinking that money will buy happiness.
Empty trinkets of life.
We are so busy that we neglect our very own children.
And yet when we realize the fact time has slept away.
Empty trinkets of life.

In The Darkness Comes Forth The Seed Of Life

In the darkness comes forth the seed of life.
Light eternal.
Man's fights between good and evil.
Silent is the night.
Eternity lies in the eye of the beholder.
The wise man speaks no words but speaks from his heart.
He who know eternity will find his true self.

Infinite

The definition of infinite is the following.
Limitless or endless in space, extent, or size;
Impossible to measure or calculate.
When I was young that would blow my mind.
I couldn't even imagine such a thing.
Now fast forward many moons and my life loves to ponder such things.
I have learned that by going inside we can try to solve the mysteries of life.
Your true nature is infinite.
Isn't that amazing?
Your true nature is kind.
Can you imagine infinity is aware?
It is love, compassion, kindness, patience, and tolerance.
This is your true nature.
You can discover this.
It's hidden inside of you just waiting to be found.

Iraq

We have been fighting in Iraq for many years.
Imagine many Iraqis have been fighting along with us.
They are sacrificing themselves and their families.
Now our government is saying they aren't allowed into our lands.
What a slap in the face!
Do we have any common sense?
The world is in an uproar.
Our President doesn't care.
He only follows his agenda, not congress.

Is Freedom Just Another Word?

Is freedom just another word?
Have we lost the meaning?
What is freedom?
Have we really achieved it?
In the midst of our 9 to 5 existences, do we truly have freedom?
How does one achieve freedom?
Lincoln freed all slaves years ago, but are we truly free?
Can man ever be free?
Is it just a concept?
True freedom lies inside.
True freedom is the goal of this life.
Remember there is a lot more going on than meets the eyes.

Is Life A Gamble?

Is life a gamble or a throw of the dice?
Is there randomness that we all dealt different cards in our life?
Does life have a purpose or meaning?
For some people, life has no meaning.
Life has no ethics or morals.
For some life has a meaning and Life has a purpose.
Truly life is an adventure.
Just because you were given certain cards at birth, doesn't mean you're stuck with them.
If you don't like what's going on in your life?
Fold.
Start a new game.
Life will always give you more cards.
You are in charge of your destination.
People may try to stop you, but they can't take it from you.
Don't gamble with your life.
You are an automatic winner within.

Is Our Life On Remote Control?

Is our life on the remote control?
We are so driven and distracted by our devices.
We can't live without our cell phones.
People have died from texting.
It is really worth that message you texted while you died so young.
We have completely forgotten our true nature.
Ok, so Facebook is cool.
But living your life moment by moment is cool.
You are the universe.
Yet your life is on the remote control.
What could be sadder?
You can solve this puzzle.

Is There A Mission In Life?

Is there a mission in life?
Are we out of the blue just placed here?
Is there a meaning to this life?
We are like a boat that has no rudder.
We wonder around where the tides of change take us.
We are lost and we think we are found.
What a dilemma we are in.
We think we are so smart.
Yet we are running in circles.
The great masters have pointed the way.
Have they ever told you how to install a rudder?
Open up your toolkit within.
Install the rudder.
You can sail to your destination now.
You have the means to steer your boat.
You are in control.
